

Engaging, visually strong, and memorable course materials are essential to enhancing learner understanding and retention.

1. Scope of Services

Vital Life Solutions Ltd provide educational design and content presentation support services. This includes the creation, redesign, or refresh of training materials including presentation slides, instructor handbooks, manuals, and related resources. Services focus on visual presentation, layout, structure, and general content alignment.

Where applicable clients may choose preferred templates, colour schemes, fonts, and general design styles in line with their own branding. These design preferences will be discussed and agreed during an initial consultation. The client is responsible for providing any branding guidelines, logos, or brand assets required for inclusion.

Vital Life Solutions Ltd does not provide certification, regulatory approval, legal advice, or awarding body validation.

2. Responsibility for Compliance

While reasonable care is taken to align materials with current best practice and published guidance (including the new 2025 Resuscitation Council guidance where applicable), final responsibility for the accuracy, suitability, and compliance of all materials rests with the client.

The client is responsible for ensuring that all materials meet the requirements of their awarding body, employer, regulator, or any other governing organisation prior to use.

3. Intellectual Property and Client Materials

The client confirms that they own or have permission to use and modify, any materials supplied to Vital Life Solutions Ltd for the purpose of redesign or refreshing.

Vital Life Solutions Ltd accepts no liability for copyright or intellectual property breaches arising from materials supplied by the client.

4. Use of Guidance or Referenced Materials

Any references to clinical or first aid guidance are for general alignment purposes only. Materials are not endorsed, approved, or authorised by the Resuscitation Council or any other awarding or regulatory body unless explicitly stated in writing.

5. Canva and Design Assets

Designs are produced using Canva and licensed assets in accordance with Canva's commercial use terms. Final materials are provided for the client's internal training and instructional use. Redistribution, resale, or use as templates for third parties is not permitted unless agreed in writing.

6. Limitation of Liability

Vital Life Solutions Ltd shall not be liable for any loss, damage, or claim arising from the use or misuse of materials once delivered. Liability is limited to the value of the services provided.

7. Acceptance

Engagement of services constitutes acceptance of this disclaimer.
